

Dr. Badr Alsuwaidan

Deputy Director for scientific affairs
SARI, KACST
Saudi Arabia

Dr. Badr Alsuwaidan He received his PH.D. Degree from University at Buffalo, 2008 Then rejoin KACST as an assistance research professor at the National Satellite Technology Center. From 2009-2011 as served as visiting researcher at Stanford University working on The GP-B data analysis and MGRS project with Stanford-KACST joint center of Excellence. In 2013 He become the Director of at the National Satellite Technology Center and in 2014 he become the Deputy Director for Scientifics affairs the Space and Aeronautic Research Institute.